Greetings!

Alleluia. Christ is risen!

What a glorious week, the entirety of last week! Perhaps that's a strange thing to say, considering the grief-filled content of Maundy Thursday and Good Friday, but even those days were made glorious because of how we were able to recall the stories. So, I say again, what a glorious week last week. And oh, how many people we have to thank for all its glory!

Really, stretching the memory back to Palm Sunday, it is important to thank Rob Walsh for putting together that slide show of parishioners with their palms (and my thanks to all of you who were able to stand for a photo). Rob does so much to make our on-line presence shine and that particular piece brought such a smile to my face.

Of course, part of what made the video so grandand really all of Holy Week so amazing-- was the music. How moving was it to hear once again the music from Taizé chanted as we gazed upon the Good Friday cross? And how spectacular was it to hear the brass, timpani, and voices fill the air as we proclaimed, "He is risen?!" In truth, there was nothing more challenging and timeconsuming than providing music for the Holy Week services. Rodney so carefully planned the many pieces not just in terms of themes, but also with care to include as many different voices as possible. Although not all of our choir members were able to sing last week, I am grateful to them all for both singing and not singing with equal joy and devotion.

Singing voices were not the only voices that contributed to our glorious Holy Week. My heart was filled and my soul was fed by the voices of our three laypreachers for the Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday Eucharists. Thank you Eddy Lopez, Angie Howard-McParland, and Paul Brookes for sharing with us your wonderful words and your deep faith. Stay Connected

As usual, none of these services would run so smoothly without the efforts of countless others who might not have sung or preached but still labored mightily. Steve McLoughlin practically camped overnights in the back pew so he could see to it that individuals were warmly greeted and our various COVID protocols were respectfully but thoroughly enforced. I am grateful to Steve and all our ushers who did such a great job over the week!

I also am grateful to Liz Fox and the many altar guild members who came out time and time again to clean up and set up. There were so many moving parts and somehow everything ended up in the right place at the right time. Thank you, ladies!!!

Speaking of moving parts, I must thank our sexton, Tim Marnane, who not only lifted so many of the many moving parts, but also kept the church looking good day after day. Holy Week is one of those times when the 9-5 work schedule doesn't apply. Quite literally, Tim was at St. Luke's from sunup to sundown throughout the week. He even came out at 6:00AM Easter morning to help set up for our outdoor celebration. Thanks, Tim!

And of course, doing the heavy lifting of another kind was our parish administrator, Christina Imondi. Just the number of bulletins she had to create for Holy Week makes for a full work week. But then added to that is the task of scheduling our various readers and tending to our myriad of communications needs-not to mention putting up with me. Christina manages all this work with such kindness and patience and precision. Last week's worship was a reflection of her many gifts, and I feel so fortunate to work with her. We all owe her a great thanks.

And finally, no retrospective of Holy Week would be complete without giving thanks for the talents and dedication of both Rodney and Tanya. Besides his wonderful musical talents, Rodney is so thoughtful and so attentive to every detail of worship. He makes for such a great partner as we plan our liturgies.

Likewise, it was a joy partnering with Tanya not just for Holy Week but for all of Lent. Besides the warmth and faith that she brought to our Holy Week, throughout Lent Tanya also organized and presided over the parish's Lenten blog (Thank you, blog writers!!!) and a Lenten Kid's Compline (assisted by Angie Howard-McParland)-both offerings new for St. Luke's. We are so fortunate to benefit from her considerable abilities.

Truth be told, a year ago, as we all celebrated Easter virtually, I found myself more relieved than uplifted. But last Sunday our Easter celebration felt more familiar and more joy-filled. It was the culmination of God's great work and our good works. And as I write this note my heart is full with both gratitude and hope. Which leaves me wanting to shout again, "Alleluia. Christ is risen!" Adult Faith Formation

Adult Faith Formation

Beginning April 14, the Adult Faith Formation Group will be reading Love Is the Way, by our presiding bishop, the Most Rev. Michael Curry. About this book the Archbishop of Canterbury writes, "Drawing on his own life and experiences, (Curry) shows us that time and time again, when love is threatened by circumstances-- be it poverty, racism, violence, injustice, or the abuse of power-- that same love has the power to shine through."

Come and celebrate the Easter season with us by reflecting upon the power of this love to change our lives.

As in recent months, the class will meet over Zoom on Wednesdays from 7:00-8:30PM. Please read Chapter 7 in preparation for our first meeting. And, as always, expense should be no obstacle to participation. If you need assistance in acquiring the book, let Tim or Tanya know.

We look forward to sharing the discussions with you!

Corporate Communion

Corporate Communion Program

The Corporate Communion program at St. Luke's is about to begin.

Children understand the symbolism and significance of the Eucharist in ways that are often surprising and delightful. It is no wonder that Jesus said, "Let the little children come to me!"

Since the 1991 Prayerbook, our church has lived into the theology that Baptism is full initiation into the Body of Christ, moving away from the idea that Confirmation and "understanding" are the bench marks for participation in the Eucharist.

Corporate Communion is a remarkable communion instruction, not preparation class. It is designed to offer age appropriate theology, liturgy and tradition to children.

Children are not the future of the church, they are the church today. This class honors their full membership in the Body of Christ, and equips us grownups for the vows we made at their Baptism that we would support them in their life in Christ.

Corporate Communion classes at St. Luke's will begin at 9am and will meet on the following dates:

5/2 Meet and Greet/Sharing a Meal
5/9 Story Telling/These Holy Things
5/16 Church Tour with Father Tim
5/23 These Holy Things/Praying Together/Angel
6/5 Rehearsal 12:00-1:00 and Ice Cream Social at St. Luke's
6/6 Corporate Communion Celebration at the 10:15 service

We will meet downstairs in the dining room and will practice social distancing.

Please contact me at theresa@stlukeseg.org for a registration form or call me at 415-233-0761 if you have any questions or concerns.

Blessings, Theresa Deiters Muscat

Handmade Crosses

Handmade Crosses

Hi, my name is David Clifton. I have grown up here at St. Luke's. From being in the choir, to being part of the youth group, to going to ECC for many years, and to be able serve as an Acolyte on the alter. And through it all was my family (mom, dad, and 2 sisters) and my St. Luke's family (too many of you to list by name). When my dad passed away in 2018, I came to ask GOD and my St. Luke's family for support. That is when Fr. Tim, Fr. Dante, and our Deacon Christine became part of my family. And it was and still is being very supportive.

I took dad passing very hard, so to help myself get through that time, I had to put my creative mind to work. I had to find something that I could do. So I went to the internet, and starting looking at things that I could make. One thing caught my eye, it was a cross. Not an ordinary cross, but a cross that was made out of something that I had seen all the time growing up. The cross was made out of horseshoe nails. Yes, I said horseshoe nails, the nails that are used to put shoes on horses. The cross was called a "Disciple's Cross", it looked nice but I knew that with a little bit of extra work, I could make it something that dad would like. So, I got some supplies and I made two prototypes. I took them to church and showed them to the Deacon (who loved them) and who (at the time) 'BLESSED' them. I gave one to mom and I took the other one. At that time, I asked the clergy if they wanted one and what color(s) they wanted it to be. Now that is when things started to take off, the Deacon said that having the acolytes make their own cross would be another way to teach them about 'HOLY WEEK'. So a workshop was setup one Sunday after church and all of the acolytes each made their own cross. On Palm Sunday of 2019, Fr. Tim 'BLESSED' the acolytes' crosses and the crosses were then passed out to the acolytes. And it was a very nice site, to see something that I had helped the acolytes make, in the memory of dad, being wore around the necks of the acolytes on Easter Sunday 2019.

Every now and then, I end up making one for a friend of the family, or for a birthday present for a member of the church. Well, now I am writing this to ask any member of my church family, if they would like me to make them a cross. I have included a photo of a finished cross along with a QR code that you can scan to send me an email. Now Mother Tanya and the other Fr. Tim, have become part of our family and I have already made, had 'BLESSED', and delivered their crosses.

God be with you, David

St. Luke's Feeding Ministries

St. Luke's Feeding Ministries Update!

Like most other things, Covid restrictions have had an impact on the usual rhythm on Christ Community Kitchen (CCK), Lunch on The Hill (LOTH) and Loaves and Fishes (LFRI). Throughout the year the leadership of the feeding ministries have been collaborating in finding new ways to help our community and those in need. March was a very active month.

St. Luke's parishioners also provided support to the Sayles Street Shelter. A site that we have had a long relationship with through our LFRI runs. The shelter offers transitional housing along with a wide range of services and life skills training such as parenting support, employment training, GED, mental health and substance abuse counseling. Saint Luke's delivery of diapers, pull-ups, brushes, men's socks and deodorant, baby lotion, shampoo and kids' hair ties was deeply appreciated by those in the Shelter.

Our Feeding Ministries collaborated to provide sorely needed toiletries to the Community Care Alliance Program in Woonsocket. This non-profit program recently opened a drop-in center called Safe Haven The center is located around the corner from the bus stop, a cornerstone of our monthly LFRI run for years. When they reached out through LFRI, we provided cases of toothpaste, toothbrushes, mouthwash, shampoo, soap, deodorant, feminine hygiene, hand towels, sanitizer, and wipes. Those who delivered the donations were inspired to see the wonderful work being done by Safe Haven and happy to reconnect with some of our LFRI friends.

Moving forward we are exploring how to build on these efforts with a vision of establishing ways of continuing our support on a regular basis. Keep an eye out for ways that you can be a part of these outreach efforts. As details are available, we plan on reaching out through SignUpGenius for your help.

If you would like additional information, feel free to reach out to the Feeding Ministries through the office.

St. Luke's Choirs

St. Luke's Choirs Sing for You!

As a special gift from the Canterbury, St. Cecilia, and Angel Choirs to our St. Luke's family and friends, choir members compiled a special 'arrangement' of "How Can I Keep From Singing". The music is from an American folk song originally composed by Baptist minister Robert Wadworth Lowry in 1868 with the four-part arrangement published by Jeffrey Honoré in 1991. The choirs performed this piece at their 2019 Spring Concert and happily recreated that performance in this video (also available on St. Luke's website and Facebook page).
