Greetings!

Recently I've been giving a lot of thought to sabbath. Or rather, I've been giving a lot of thought to how it seems so hard to find time for sabbath. We are commanded to keep the sabbath holy, but trying to imagine taking an entire day of doing...nothing...is kind of impossible. I love the idea of sabbath, of taking time intentionally set aside to restore ourselves physically and spiritually, time set apart to be particularly aware of God's presence all around us. But Mondays, the day my husband and I both have off work together, the day meant for us to rest, end up being filled with yardwork and running errands, still trying to figure out where things go in our house, wishing the house would magically clean itself since neither of us are particularly terrific at keeping up with that. Sabbath is just not happening for me.

Given the nature of my vocation, it feels like a failure to not keep a sabbath. Given the nature of our world, it feels like a failure to not continually push to be productive. Sabbath is countercultural. The world tells us to go-go-go; sabbath says to stop. With intention. Without apology. Sabbath says that there is a boundary, that we are not machines meant to produce without end. We are human beings. We are made in the image of God, and God rested after creation, Jesus rested, retreating from the crowds at times to be alone. Surely if God rested, we must also rest.

Sabbath feels deeply indulgent in a world that judges us by how productive we are, how much we achieve, how much our ambition drives us. We are told that busy-ness is a virtue, but busy-ness cannot be an end in itself. Are we busy doing the work God created us to do, or busy for the sake of appearing to be important or worthwhile? Doesn't our worth come from a deeper place than that?

I recently read some advice from one of my seminary professors: rather than taking an entire day and hoping for the perfect sabbath, he suggested dividing days into three chunks: work, home, and sabbath. If we have 16 waking hours, perhaps eight or nine of those are given to work, and three or four of those might be given to our home life. But every day, we can make the choice to honor our need for sabbath. We can set aside an hour or two with the television turned off, without our phone in our hand, without email pinging us. We can set aside an hour to be in conversation with those in our home who we love. Perhaps on Saturdays we can extend this and set aside a morning for a walk in nature, or time watching the waves on the beach, or time with a good book. Of course, on Sundays I hope we see you in church. Every day we have a choice we can make. If we wish to keep a sabbath, we can choose to do so. It does not have to be all or nothing- a perfect day of sabbath or nothing at all. We can choose to keep 6:00 - 7:00 in the evening holy. We can be intentional about keeping Saturday mornings holy. The world will not draw this boundary for us, it is a boundary we must choose for ourselves.

Every day is a new day that calls us to begin again. Every day we can make the choice to honor the imago dei, that spark of the Divine in each of us. Every day we show what matters to us by the choices we make. I hope that every day you choose to set apart time to draw nearer to God, to restore and recenter, to honor the person you were created to be. Today I begin again, today I will seek to keep the sabbath holy. I hope you will too.

Blessings and Peace to each of you,
Mtr. Tanya

Adult Faith

Adult Faith Formation

Adult Faith Formation will resume on Wednesday, September 15th, at 7pm via Zoom.

Our book for this season is The Universal Christ: How a Forgotten Reality can Change Everything we See, Hope for, and Believe by Richard Rohr. Rohr reminds us that we believe that "one God created all things", and he invites us to "reopen [the] ancient door of faith with a key, and that key is the proper understanding of a word that many of us use often...That word is Christ." Please join us as we explore our faith in Christ more deeply.

Please read the Foreword, "Before We Begin", and Part 1, Chapter 1: "Christ is not Jesus' Last Name" in anticipation of our first class.

Let's Get Movin'

Let's Get Movin'

We've heard from many of you that you'd like to see the pew cushions returned to the sanctuary. Although we continue to explore options for replacing these 20 plus-year-old cushions with new cushions, we've decided that for the short-term we'll bring the old ones back.

So, on September 4 at 2:00 we're having a moving party! We need as many movers as possible to help return the cushions to the pews. Please consider spending an hour or two helping out-- because, as you know, many hands make for light work.

I hope to see you then.

Much thanks,
Tim

Coffee Hour

Coffee Hour Volunteers

People don't come to coffee hour just for a cup of joe; they want a human connection, something we all have missed during the pandemic! Here's a place where we build community one cup at a time.

We need your help! Father Tim would like to resume Coffee Hour. For now, we are only offering coffee and juice- no food.

As usual, our sexton, Tim, will set up the coffee urn in the morning. The Coffee Hour host simply needs to set up the coffee "station" with cups, sugars, creamer and napkins. These supplies (except the creamer) are all kept in the armoire in the Blackburn Room. There will be a table set up in the narthex near the stairs where you can set up a juice "station" with small juice cups and napkins. Tablecloths can be found in the armoire also.

So, the host would bring half and half as well as some type of juice. Everything else is provided. After the 10:15am service's coffee hour, the urns would need to be cleaned out and stored in the Blackburn Room and you would need to ensure that coffee grounds go in the trash.

Please consider signing up for an upcoming Sunday so we can properly extend our hospitality and reconnect. Christina put the sign-up sheet on the wall across from the office. You can sign up at church or call Christina in the office at 401-884-4116 and she'll add you to the list.

We look forward to seeing you all soon,

Loaves and Fishes

Loaves and Fishes - August 28 Run

As we continue our efforts to sort out the best ways for Saint Luke's Loaves & Fishes ministry to serve our neighbors and community, we will be focusing our efforts on specific locations. This allows us to continue our outreach and service while being considerate of the precautions needed due to the ongoing presence of Covid and its variants.

For our Loaves and Fishes run on August 28, we will be collecting "Back to School" items for the Family Shelter in Woonsocket. We will also be providing bagged lunches for the residents. This shelter operates under the umbrella of Community Care Alliance and offers transitional housing for families. There are 57 current occupants, 27 of which are school-aged children.

Here is the list of the School & Lunch supplies needed:

27 Backpacks with a notebook, pencils, colored pencils, pencil sharpener and eraser (no crayons please)

10 infant bibs

5 boxes of magic erasers (to get marks off walls)

Women's and men's underwear - all sizes but especially Large and XL

57 bagged lunches (detail in SignUpGenius)

Episcopal Charities

Episcopal Charities 2021: Loving Those "Cheerful Givers"!

This past Spring, the Bishop kicked off the 2021 annual Episcopal Charities campaign with his letter of Hope. In it he quotes from the liturgy of our Morning Prayer:

*Let not the needy, O Lord, be forgotten;
Nor the hope of the poor be taken away.*

Hope, the Bishop says, has manifested itself this year in multiple ways, - from the widespread availability of virus-fighting vaccines, to economic help for small businesses and the unemployed, to fair and equitable treatment for all. This year, gifts to Episcopal Charities are providing hope to Rhode Islanders, now with two options:

First, the traditional Episcopal Charities' Annual Fund, which provides agencies with sustainable, program grants, distributed yearly.

Next, to Charities Now, the immediate-needs arm of Episcopal Charities. Launched last year, gifts continue to help feeding ministries in our Episcopal churches. Like many other Rhode Island non-profit agencies, this new initiative was bridging the gap during challenging times.

Now, in Summer, the needs continue for Rhode Islanders, even as, especially as, we are again in the midst of a resurgence of COVID-19 and the Delta variant. If you've recently received a message from our Diocesan office of Charities, we are reminded, in the words of St. Paul, that each of you must give as you have made up your mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.

Your gift makes a difference! To make that difference, or for more information, go to Episcopalri.org. You may also send your check to Episcopal Charities, 275 North Main Street, Providence 02903. Please indicate in the memo section of your check if you are giving to the Charities Annual Fund or Charities NOW.

Historically, St. Luke's has been one of the largest contributors to Episcopal Charities, and we are so grateful for your continued generosity. As of June 30, 2021, 51 of you have contributed $11,465 to Episcopal Charities. As we keep all these nonprofit agencies and ministries in our prayers, let us always be mindful of those in need of food, support, love...and HOPE!

St. Luke's Choirs Sing for You!

As a special gift from the Canterbury, St. Cecilia, and Angel Choirs to our St. Luke's family and friends, choir members compiled a special 'arrangement' of "How Can I Keep From Singing". The music is from an American folk song originally composed by Baptist minister Robert Wadworth Lowry in 1868 with the four-part arrangement published by Jeffrey Honoré in 1991. The choirs performed this piece at their 2019 Spring Concert and happily recreated that performance in this video (also available on St. Luke's website and Facebook page).
